WISEGP HIGHLIGHTS...

Inspiration for your everyday practice- new website additions and our WiseGP action group!

At the start of 2023, WiseGP launched a new website and since then we've continued to add new content and raise awareness of what we're all about.

WiseGP is championing the expert generalist skills of GPs, producing materials to support our complex work and driving changes to make our everyday work sustainable. You can read more about WiseGP's aims to reclaim practice here.

In this newsletter we'll highlight several new additions since the start of 2024 to our website for you to explore, including our WiseGP Map, Primary Care Research page and information on Becoming a WiseGP. We'll also return to the subject of our February newsletter, the WiseGP Action group.

WiseGP map

This WiseGP map provides an overview of all the centres of scholarship in the British Isles. If you look at individual regions in the table below, you will find further details on each centre's main areas of expertise. There are key points of contact for each centre, whilst you can find out more by following the links to the websites for each centre of scholarship.

WiseGP Map (In partnership with the Society for Academic Primary Care)

Our WiseGP Map aims to highlight all the centres of scholarship in the British Isles. Separated into different regions of the British Isles, you can get a brief insight into the work happening in your area and around the country, with people to contact if you want to find out more!

Primary Care Research Page

If you're interested in taking part in research, on our Primary Care Research Page you can find projects currently recruiting participants. If you would like to advertise your primary care study here, please get in touch.

If you're in search of inspiration for career development...

Becoming a WiseGP

Many of you have asked us how to develop your skills as a WiseGP - individually and as a team. On our 'Becoming a WiseGP' page we'll signpost you to different resources that could support skill development across your team and throughout your own career.

If you haven't already, you can also explore our WiseStories, in which GPs and wider general practice team members have shared their stories of how they've developed their careers. If you have a story to share, please get in touch!

WiseGP Action Group

In our last newsletter we introduced the WiseGP Action Group, in recognition of the elephant in the room. The biggest threat to the future of general practice is that key decision makers don't understand what general practice is and does. Through our Action Groups, we aim to create messages communicating the vital contribution of general practice to people who need to hear- from new Integrated Care Boards, to Government.

We plan to hold 2 separate online events to try and meet different peoples' diaries:

1st May (7pm)

31st May (1:30pm)

Here's the link to sign up!

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/WSBC967>

If you want, you can read more about our action groups in our February newsletter.
